

What's better:
Contracted
IT services
or break/fix?

Did you know
there are two different ways to get
IT support for
your business?

Break/fix is where your IT
people fix things that are broken...

and that's it

A contracted partnership
is where your IT people
proactively monitor and prevent problems affecting your tech

There are only 2 benefits of
break/fix...

1.

It's cheap!

You only pay when you have a problem. But there's no ceiling to costs.

2.

And there's no commitment.

But your IT support isn't committed to you either. They won't always jump when you have a problem.

There are LOADS
of benefits with a contracted IT partner...

1.

Predictable costs.

You have no unexpected bills and can plan your monthly cash flow.

2.

Your data is safer.

It'll be encrypted, backed up, and verified.

3.

You get a higher level of service.

Your IT support partner knows your business inside out and is always there with strategic advice.

4.

You have fewer problems.

Proactive monitoring means problems are spotted and fixed before they interrupt you. Which means a happy team.

5.

You have better communication and collaboration.

Your partner will help you find the best tools for your business, so things just work better.

It feels like a no-brainer, right?
